This plot shows the relationship between number of servers and number of unhappy clients when running at 6am with randomly generated seeds. The number of unhappy clients decreases sharply from server number = 1 to number = 4, and does not change much from number = 4 to number = 20. Therefore, 4 servers seem to be the knee, and the plot shows that 4 is a good number of servers for the load at 6am.